Proceedings:

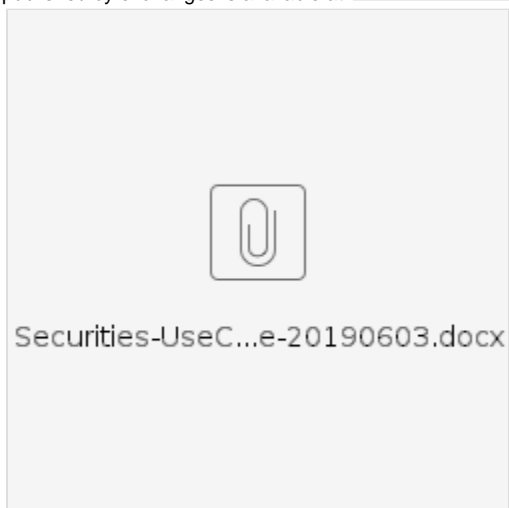

Reminder: no telecon next week (6/17) due to the OMG technical meeting, and no telecon the following Monday, 6/24, due to participant / chair travel.

Primary discussion was around differentiating between shares and instruments. New use case with respect to representation of instrument information published by exchanges is available at

And the original use case is available at

We also raised a new issue against FBC to address the disconnect between an instrument and a share - FBC-224. We also downloaded some information from OpenFIGI regarding Wells Fargo stock as an example we could consider representing, available here:

and the Bloomberg exchange code mapping corresponding to this is available here:
